To Whom It May Concern:

It is my pleasure to recommend the construction services of Pihl, Inc. Our firms have collaborated on numerous commercial and institutional projects with great success. I know Matt Pihl to be a respectable contractor who runs his firm with integrity and skill. The company offers top-notch quality, innovation, management and on-time performance. Across the board, we are always pleased with their work.

One project in particular illustrates their performance capabilities and construction expertise. Over the last year, we have worked together on the Oregon State University Outdoor Recreation Complex, located in the heart of the campus of OSU. I, (BERNHARDT GOLF), the General Contractor, hired Pihl Inc., to manage the project subcontractors and to perform a large portion of the work. The project consisted of many elements, including demolition, excavation, utilities, street improvements, buildings and structures, artificial turf, multiple lighting systems, hardscape, fencing, furnishings and landscaping. There were many campus departments and government agencies involved in the project. A substantial portion of the work was done during inclement weather and the logistics were challenging. Pihl, Inc. was able to construct and manage this project successfully and were on time and within budget. We believe that their expert knowledge and experience led to that success.

Please consider Pihl, Inc. for your next construction project. I recommend this contractor to you without reservation and look forward to working with them again.

Sincerely,

Darryl J. Bernhardt, President
